Corporate Profile

Cubico Solutions, founded in early 2000, is a young, dynamic solutions company specializing in enterprise-level, value-added IT security technologies.

With our drive, determination and passion for IT security, Cubico Solutions sets itself apart from the traditional by developing enterprise solutions that leverage off best-of-breed, open and cross-platform technologies for the management of enterprise-level IT security, IT-to-business risk correlation and integrated application security.

Cubico Solutions technologies address a uniquely extensive range of management challenges across the full range of heterogeneous distributed platforms and applications found in today's enterprise environments. The flexibility, intelligence and platform independence of Cubico Solutions technologies make them ideal for ensuring a return on technology investments, reducing the cost of technology ownership through security, and transforming IT security into an on-demand platform that can dynamically adapt to the ever-changing needs of your business.

Cubico Solutions has maintained its position of technological and business leadership for over five successful years, continuing to add value to customers - helping them meet their evolving business challenges in security, and successfully compete in an increasingly complex and challenging global marketplace.
